

Paper Formatting & Submission Guidelines

Thank you for contributing your work to the COMSOL Conference 2019 Cambridge. Please use the following guidelines as you prepare your work for submission.

- Please use the template following this page. Your final paper should be no longer than 7 pages (there is no minimum, but please provide enough information such that the numerical modeling/multiphysics simulation work is understood).
- Please use Times New Roman font only. The size and style used throughout the template appear in Table 1 of the Appendix in the attached paper formatting guidelines.
- Save your final paper as a PDF document.
- Submit the final PDF version of your paper online using the ExOrdo platform <https://comsolconference2019cambridge.exordo.com/login> no later than August 16, 2019.

For questions about paper submissions, please contact Richard Chippendale by phone (+44 (0) 1223 451 580) or email (richard.chippendale@comsol.com).

Paper Title

J. L. Smith¹

1. Department (if applicable), Organization, City, State, Country

Introduction

Here, you may include some background information and describe the problem. You may want to provide an overview of the work presented in the paper. The section headings that follow are only suggestions.

Theory / Experimental Set-up

You may want to include some theory to set up the reader for your simulation work.

Governing Equations / Numerical Model / Simulation / Methods / Use of Simulation Apps

The paper should include a description of how COMSOL was used or will be used in this study (include which modules and physics interfaces were used).

The paper also should contain a mathematical description of the problem. Governing equations, initial conditions and boundary conditions may be important to include.

We encourage you to write about your use of simulation apps, if applicable.

Experimental Results / Simulation Results / Discussion

You may include color simulation images. Please export your simulation images such that the final resolution of your figures is at least 300dpi.

Conclusions

You may include any implications or conclusions obtained from your work. You may include plans for future work.
